

ABA: 68666661

Arc

A false-color astronomical image, likely from a radio telescope, showing a bright, elongated source. The central region is the brightest, appearing in shades of red and yellow, and is surrounded by a diffuse, blue-colored emission. The overall shape is somewhat irregular and elongated horizontally. A white crosshair is centered on the source, with a vertical line extending above and below the image, and a horizontal line extending to the left and right edges.