

ABA:72283719

Pn

The image displays a brain scan, likely an fMRI or PET scan, showing two hemispheres. The left hemisphere (viewer's left) exhibits several bright spots, indicating areas of increased activity or blood flow. The right hemisphere (viewer's right) is predominantly dark blue, suggesting lower activity. A vertical line separates the two hemispheres, and a horizontal line is positioned at the bottom of the image.