

ABA:74273119

VPM/VPL

An axial brain scan image showing a cross-section of the brain. The image is predominantly blue, with a central region of higher intensity (lighter blue/cyan) indicating activation. This central region is roughly oval-shaped and centered on the midline. The image is overlaid with a white crosshair, with the vertical line passing through the center of the activation. The overall shape of the brain slice is roughly circular.