

ABA:748

SPa ventral

A fluorescence microscopy image showing a symmetrical, blue-stained structure, likely a ventral view of a SPa. The structure is divided into two main lobes by a vertical line, with a horizontal line intersecting them. The staining is concentrated along the periphery of the lobes, with some internal signal. The background is black.