

ABA:79904406

SPa dorsal

A fluorescence microscopy image showing a blue, elongated, and somewhat irregularly shaped structure against a black background. The structure is divided into two main lobes by a vertical line, with a horizontal line intersecting it near the bottom. The overall shape is reminiscent of a butterfly or a pair of wings spread apart. The blue color indicates the presence of a fluorescent marker.